

Algorithms for matrix groups

Prof. Eamonn O'Brien

Department of Mathematics, University of Auckland, New Zealand

Despite their ubiquity, only limited algorithmic tools exist to study groups of matrices of finite fields. We will identify a few of the inherent difficulties, and consider some related challenge problems.