

Weak measurements and gravitational wave detection

Feng-Li Lin

Department of Physics, National Taiwan Normal University, Taiwan

I will review the ideas of weak measurements and weak value and the possibilities of adopt them to enhance the gravitational wave detection in the interferometer experiments.